

Intel Drop #12 - The Cabal Can Make Anyone Believe Anything

We have reached Level 5 escalation. In the coming days, it is possible more of our sites will be removed. That is why we are doing our best to prepare.

Intel Drop #12 - The Cabal Can Make Anyone Believe Anything

August 8, 2022

As most of you know, my entire website at OculumLabs.com was vaporized by the cabal yesterday, as we predicted. In the meantime, you can use the Wayback Machine to view the articles.

We think the reason they have not deleted everything is because we are the access to the whistle blowers. They want to catch me, Gideon and his men, but they don't want you learning any more of the truth, either. My website was extremely popular and receiving a lot of traffic, so they nuked it.

Here's some steps you can take so we don't lose contact:

- Join our Telegrams, they are still active (group, comms)
- Join our Matrix (weak platform, but works for comms)
- Join my social media: Twitter, GAB, Gettr & Brighteon
- Join our other Twitters here, here and here
- Our email at survivethereset@proton.me still works
- Our YouTube works, join the Community page
- Our web portal is still online to join our mail alerts
- Bookmark my JustPaste for future reference
- Do all you can to share, share, share everything

We are learning that no platforms are safe. Even suggestions of the safest show there are back doors. The cabal owns it all. We have to just move forward.

I had a conversation today with Gideon about everything going on, here's most of it:

Bill: They've actually gone bonkers. Why do people believe the idiocy they spew?

Gideon: "Because the cabal can make anyone believe anything."

Bill: The agents seem more frenzied and hysterical than ever, what is going on with them?

Gideon: "The agents are trying to become Sovereign, so they will do anything to please the cabal."

Bill: So they have an even bigger incentive to lie than normal?

Gideon: "Yes, they do."

Bill: I still see people calling us a hoax. But how can it be a hoax with such intense attempts at censorship and so many agents swarming us?

Gideon: "Because it isn't a hoax."

Bill: Why can't people use the brains God gave them and engage in a little logical deduction and see that?

Gideon: "Because their minds are controlled by the cabal. They don't think for themselves. They follow certain narratives. It's comforting to live in a world where CSRQ isn't real or can't happen. The agents reassure them things aren't really that bad, and people like you or me must be some kind of hoax or a psy op."

Bill: They don't go after Q Anon like this. They prop-up guys like Phil Godlewski with money, agents or Dave at X22 Report, and millions of people follow them without a hint of push-back or censorship.

Gideon: "That's because that's a real hoax, a real psy op. They want the truth seekers believing in it. They don't want them believing in us. You have to fight every day to stay above water."

Bill: What about their capabilities? It seems they have the power to do anything, create any lie out of thin air.

Gideon: "They can do whatever they want, Bill. Let's go back thirty years. They erased Bob Lazar's entire life history in an instant. His records, gone. He was left with one little piece of paper that proved he had some kind of tangential connection to the U.S. government, but it wasn't much. If they could do that then, imagine what they could do now."

Bill: They can fake emails, they can fake anything.

Gideon: "Anything. It can be generated convincingly. If they need to discredit someone, it's easy. They can create a false record of your life, if they need to, including a false criminal history. They can create an entire fake history of your online activities, if they have to. They can falsely accuse, charge and imprison someone, which they do all the time."

Bill: I had hundreds of brute force attacks per day on my site. I posted on my Twitter about it. Then they stopped. Do you think they got into it?

Gideon: "Very likely, yes."

Bill: So they got in and planted things?

Gideon: "It would fit the narrative they are building, yes."

Bill: I changed the password, it was a strong one.

Gideon: "They can backdoor the query so it will bypass the limiter, and run it thousands of times without it triggering the limiter. That's probably what was done."

Bill: How often do they do things like this?

Gideon: "Rarely. You're an exception. They despise you."

Bill: It seems so. The level of hate, vitriol, anger, it's off the charts with these people.

Gideon: "They're scared of you, and of us."

Bill: They're accusing us of things which are false, but in some cases, they're not. It seems to stem from their failure to comprehend the Reset. Don't they know everything will be wiped out?

Gideon: "Of course they know that, but they don't want the public to know that. They want the public to keep believing in the system."

Bill: Right, I think we've been attacked over things that we explained over and over, but it doesn't sink in. We know that all fiat will go to zero. We know the cabal has a new digital currency coming.

Gideon: "They're terrified of us actually waking people up to the reality that their world as they know is going to fade away into nothing, and be replaced with CSRQ."

Bill: It's interesting how the areas they attack us the hardest are the things they don't want out, or want people to know or believe.

Gideon: "It's very telling, isn't it?"

Bill: They seem to have found out about Obsidian. How much does that escalate us?

Gideon: "They don't know what it is, they're not smart enough to figure it out, so it doesn't matter now."

Bill: You mean the agents, or the public who believe the agents?

Gideon: "Both. The cabal probably isn't worried about anyone figuring it out, not yet."

Bill: I made a mistake with that, didn't I?

Gideon: "It's not important now. Let them spin their fairy tales and fantasies. It will keep them busy. Have you noticed how they are wrong about almost everything you do and say?"

Bill: Yeah, they're not very smart. They just think they're smart. Michael said one guy went nuts last night, saying I took down my site. Saying a "403" means I took it down. Well, I proved today I didn't.

Gideon: "The cabal adores people like that, because they work for free as agents, but they'll end up as Common class and still get injected. They'll get no reward for the free work they do against us."

Bill: God, they are dumb. And why would I want my beautiful site to be removed? I loved it.

Gideon: "They might have thought you would give yourself some kind of credibility to say the cabal removed it."

Bill: Ok, but that didn't happen, and I have proof it was not removed by me.

Gideon: "Proof means nothing to them."

Bill: Let me ask you this, are these agents scared of not becoming Sovereign?

Gideon: "They're terrified, because they know what it means to be Common. Bill, there's 100,000 agents operating at any given time, and only a handful among them are Sovereign. The rest are desperate to gain that status."

Bill: So the more they deny that CSRQ is real, the more they push against us, the higher chance the cabal may bless them with an upgrade?

Gideon: "Exactly. And they know time is running out, quickly running out."

Bill: God, this is all making sense now. They're trying to score points, gain brownie points. The more they can attack us, spin lies, twist everything, call us names, the better chance they have to become Sovereign!

Gideon: "They know they won't have much time, either, to get USDR."

Bill: Wow. If it's late in the game, and they get made Sovereign, what then for them?

Gideon: "Probably a week or two to make some transfers, everything they have. They know they might not end up with much on the other side of this. They will do anything to get that upgrade as soon as they can, to impress the cabal."

Bill: It's all coming together now. It's all making sense now. Plus, you have the rest of the Sovereigns preparing. Look what they're doing to the economy.

Gideon: "They're getting ready for the big dance. The crash."

Bill: September, right?

Gideon: "Very likely. When they pull the plug, Bill, it will be like 2008 all over again but one hundred times worse. It's going to sneak up on everyone"

Bill: America gets hit the hardest?

Gideon: "Yes, the United States is ground zero. The cabal wants it burned to the ground. I would not have us doing any of this if we were there, we would have to get out first. Then Europe will crumble and the rest of the dominoes will fall."

Bill: Everything we're saying about this collapse is being confirmed and validated by other sources all the time, constantly.

Gideon: "Of course. There are very credible people paying attention and they know exactly what's coming, they see it."

Bill: Like Michael Burry?

Gideon: "He knows."

Bill: What about Jim Rickarts and Martin Armstrong?

Gideon: "They know, they have a piece of it."

Bill: What about Greg Mannarino?

Gideon: "He seems to have a piece of it, too."

Bill: But not the whole picture?

Gideon: "No, and if they do know, they're not saying it."

Bill: No one is really talking about CSRQ in a real way except us. We're the only ones.

Gideon: "The only ones. No one has come close to detailing the exact plan the way we have. The exact scenario. What they exactly plan to do. Because we know what it is, we have access. And that's why you're being targeted, while those other guys just talk and talk, without any censorship at all."

Bill: It's just incredible, all of this. Where do we stand right now on the Sovereign situation?

Gideon: "My guys don't want to move forward with it, not now. They have cold feet. They're watching all this play out and they don't like it, they don't like how the public is siding with the agents. They're wondering what the point of risking their lives was for."

Bill: I don't blame them at all, but we've got to change their minds.

Gideon: "I'm working on it."

Bill: This is where people lose their damn minds, because we want to help people become Sovereign.

Gideon: "Bill, I've told you a thousand times, if we attempt this, they are going to go crazy trying to stop us. They know once an account is deleted, they can't find out who we made Sovereign. Can you imagine how upset that makes the cabal?"

Bill: I would imagine it infuriates them.

Gideon: "They don't want us doing this. They will lie until they are blue in the faces to convince people to keep believing in their false system, rather than believing CSRQ is real."

Bill: Do you think when we get closer to the end game, and it's obvious we were right, that our enemies will come to us? Is it possible for them to see reason?

Gideon: "Yes. They will have a change of heart. They will come begging. They will see the writing on the wall, that the end is near, and they will think of you and me."

Bill: You know, I already had one person do that.

Gideon: "More will do it."

Bill: Should we help them, the ones who betrayed us and doubted us, if they come to us later?

Gideon: "No."

Bill: Damn, that's cold.

Gideon: "Think of the people they deceived with their lies, who they turned away from us. Think of the damage they did, Bill, before they woke up. Remember that."

Bill: I will. Too many others deserve it, not them.

Gideon: "Too many good people do not deserve to be force-injected, so why should we save them?"

Bill: We won't, I promise, I won't give them the time of day.

Gideon: "If they were once an enemy, don't."

Bill: We've had a lot of problems sorting out the bad people from the good. How do we form a small group we can trust? I even have this one really obvious agent acting like they are my friend.

Gideon: "Use discernment, and if you need help, just keep passing them along to me, I will check on them."

Bill: Good, I'll keep doing that. I just feel like the agents have this power over us. How do they have so much power?

Gideon: "Because they have a license to lie, and gatekeepers and money to back them up."

Bill: We should be able to beat them with the truth.

Gideon: "We should, but the public relishes their lies. If the people rejected their lies, they would have no power, none at all."

Bill: Same for the cabal.

Gideon: "The cabal's power would evaporate into a puff of nothingness if the public simply stopped believing their lies. It's not hard. You and I don't believe them, because their lies are so unbelievably stupid in the first place."

Bill: I never believed the Covid crap. Just at the start, I was worried, but after a month or two, I said, "Ok, this is bullshit."

Gideon: "And then it became an education for you. You learned more about the reality of our world, viruses, vaccines."

Bill: I always knew it was suspect, I never got the flu shot, I knew that was bad. But Covid opened my eyes to all the truth, how it's all a huge scam, all of it, going back a hundred years, back to Pasteur. The terrain theory versus germ theory.

Gideon: "It's sad that an event like this would serve to fully and totally wake up a very small few, but put to sleep even deeper the majority."

Bill: It's incredible how as the cabal gets nuttier, the more people seem to believe in them.

Gideon: "It's a mixture of sunk cost fallacy, fear, doubling-down. The vaccinated know something's wrong, they're too weak to admit it."

Bill: Well, in fairness, a few are. A few are getting angry.

Gideon: "A few. It should be tens of millions. Instead, those millions are busy injecting little children with deadly, poisonous vaccines. They are literally murdering their own" children so Pfizer can be richer."

Bill: How do we win if it's this easy for the cabal?

Gideon: "I don't think we can."

Bill: I wish this ended on a better note, but it is what it is.

Gideon: "We're going to be ok, Bill. You and me and our group. We have to worry about us now."

Bill: Ok. I feel like we're giving up.

Gideon: "Don't give up. Find the few who are good. Find the few who can help us. Find them. And fight back if you have to. Fight back."

Bill: I will.
